Daily Report

Today was a hot day in Washington DC (broke 100 degrees); we survived by touring the monuments and memorials in the morning before it got too hot and then spending as much time indoors (with AC) as possible. The day's events and quotes of the day were as follows:

- Tour of major monuments and War Memorials, Capital, White House, etc. (again - pictures worth a 1,000 words).
- Bus Driver Bob quote (over cell phone to SM Doug during 1st stop at morning tour) - "Hey, do you know one of your boys is still asleep on the bus?"
- Tour Guide Tim often repeated quote (million times) - "This is very important!"
- Lunch on the DC Mall.
- Inside Tour of US Capital, including Rotunda, Hall of Statues and the basement crypt/foundation.
- Inside visit to Library of Congress, and walk past the Supreme Court Building.
- Smithsonian Museum of American History with view of Old Glory (Star Spangled Banner Flag).
- Dinner (Country Buffet) and a Show with an impromptu Troop 605 Bus Karaoke Night (see the photos taken by Mac of tonight's guest performers) - very fun for everyone.
- A little earlier arrival to hotel for a longer night sleep; some boys were a bit tired this morning.

Good night!
